2016 El Diablo Vineyard The Fallen Angel Grenache

This vineyard is the perfect site for Grenache. It's cool enough, warm enough, windy enough with perfect soils and a great grower Ulises Valdez. We have sourced from this 500ft. elevation vineyard since 2010. The clay loam adds depth and roundness to the wine while keeping an aspect of finesse to the overall balance. The Cha-teauneuf du Pape suitcase clone is unique in the size and intensity of the grapes. The bud wood originates from Rhône guru John Alban's vineyard.

WINE ENTHUSIAST.

94 Pts Fermented 40% whole cluster and then given time to age in neutral barrels, this is a brawny, exotic and boldly flavorful wine. Black licorice, grilled meat and baked strawberry and cherry give it a complex lift of intrigue and succulence. The tannins are firmly structured and supportive.

90+ Pts Medium to deep ruby-purple in color, the 2016 Grenache The Fallen Angel El Diablo Vineyard gives intense raspberry preserves, baked red and black cherry, bitter chocolate and garrigue aromas. Medium to full-bodied, it packs in the jammy fruit layers framed by firm tannins, going savory on the finish. This is a huge style of Grenache but well done.
