2016 Pure Yum Sonoma County

67% Syrah 33% Grenache

We have been making proprietary red blends long before their popularity rose in the last few years. What's distinct about our red blends is the passion and intent with which they are blended. Our blends are not an after thought, they are made with the same care and quality as our single vineyard wines and sourced from those same vineyards. Each has a different path to its existence and distinctly unique profile.

WINE ENTHUSIAST 94 Pts Editor's Choice This expertly blends 67% Syrah with 33% Grenache into a blockbuster package of full-bodied flavor and balanced brightness, melding together sanguine meaty tones with an underlying richness of blueberry pie and graham cracker. Velvety smooth, it packs a memorably delicious punch.

Wine Spectator 92 Pts Plump, with gutsy fruit and just enough polish to make it sing, offering distinctive blackberry, garrigue and smoky pepper flavors that finish with broad-shouldered tannins. Syrah and Grenache. Drink now through 2023.

JEB DUNNUCK 92 Pts The 2016 Pure Yum comes from Sonoma County and is a blend of 67%

Syrah and 33% Grenache that was 70% destemmed and spent 18 months in neutral barrels. This darker fruited, spicy red has plenty of intensity, a complex, spicy, forest floor character, a hint of sweet earth, ripe tannins, and a great finish. As with all Jeff's wines, it delivers ample character and intensity while staying fresh and lively.
