WINE ENTHUSIAST. 91 Pts

A vivid gold color and thick butter, vanilla and baking-spice aromas get this wine off to a bold start before expansive butter, toasted baguette and marzipan flavors flood the palate with their richness. A very full body, a viscous texture and a lingering finish layered with lavish oak add up to an indulgent taste experience.

The Jeff Cohn Cellars Family: Alexandra, Haley, Isabel & Jeff.

We use a concrete egg shaped tank to ferment and age the Grenache Blanc portion of this blend. The premise is that with the egg shape and the earth's gravitation rotation it creates a vortex inside the egg that stirs the lees on a constant basis as it ages. What we like about the egg is that it keeps the fruit bright, adds a creaminess, and brings out the minerality of the wine.
